Songs and Activities for the Music Classroom - Grades 1-4 Mark Burrows

Creepy, crawly, gross, and strange – it's a fact that kids love all these things. And who better to deliver it to them than Mark Burrows. Known to lots of little listeners as Mister Mark, he's really just a big kid himself. So when he writes music that clucks (Spring Chickens) and songs that stomp (If You're Angry and You Know It), it's sure to resonate with your students. Better still, all are supplemented with Orff activities to help further musical learning. Reproducible visuals are provided, as is a CD that totally rocks. Some titles include Zoo Dentist, Radioactive Lunch, Busy as a Bee, Brain Freeze and Mad Hatter Day, just to name a few.

PENGUINS ON PARADE

Feb Release

And 11 Other Animal Action Songs Grades 1-3 Cathy Blair

Creative movement is the focus of these simple melodies, each of which highlights a particular animal and its unique, sometimes peculiar, way of moving. Students are invited to express the movements of the animals the way they imagine them, sparking creative thinking and helping them establish connections between music and movement. Students will improve their sensory awareness, improvisation skills, and self-confidence. The included performance/ accompaniment CD extends and facilitates use. Here come the penguins (and kangaroos and lions and crocodiles and monkeys and more) on parade!

BODY ELECTRIC 2.0

A Symphony of Sounds for

Body Percussion - Grades 2-6 by Mark Burrows

NEW • 2009

A bass drum. A scratch record. A cello. A lion's roar. A dog's bark. A gamelan. All of these sounds and millions more are right at your fingertips. Literally. It's the human body—the greatest and most diverse instrument on the planet. Think of the possibilities. You can stomp your whole foot or just with the heel. You can tap your toes or slide your foot across the floor. You can pat your tummy or pat your chest. Now imagine all the possibilities when you use vocal percussion or other mouth sounds. Combine the body percussion and the mouth sounds and the possibilities are endless. Body Electric 2.0 explores these possibilities. Suggested forms are provided for each allowing you to extend them into performance pieces, perfect for a change of pace during a concert. It's amazing how much learning is hidden in all this fun!

THE PRINCIPAL AND THE PEA

Grades 2-4 by Mark Burrows

This short, seven-song musical uses simple rhyming dialogue and hip, imaginative songs to tell the story of a school searching for the perfect principal. Taking its inspiration from the classic Hans Christian Anderson tale, The Princess and the Pea, the kids in this musical, wondering why they're never asked what they think or what they want, devise the perfect plan when the teachers cannot choose. Of course, the students find the perfect fit, "A grown-up who could not stand peas," only to find out that their new principal is a fan of...brussels sprouts! Set in a cafeteria with a cast of students, costumes, props, and staging are easy and affordable. Songs are easy, stylish, good range for kids, and careful repetition. The result is an entertaining side-splitting musical sure to peas...please.
